The Faculty of Philosophy at the University of Rostock invites applications for a

W3-Professorship in „Biomechanics in Sports Science“

at the Institute of Sport Science, at the earliest possible date (within budget considerations).

An expelled personality is in demand who represents the scientific subject in its entire range in research and education. Outstanding research achievements on the field of appointment as well as founded experience in education and in acquisition of third party funded projects are required. Applicants are declared nationally and internationally in research concerning modelling and simulation of biomechanical systems as well as in motion analysis. They dispose of founded knowledge on numerical methods and are in relationship with sports science. Contributions to teaching study courses, bachelor and master degrees of the Faculty of Philosophy are expected. Teaching language is German. At least two years of collaboration at a University or comparable research institution outside the University of Rostock are desired.

The professorship contributes with its orientation to the research focuses of the University of Rostock. Disposition to interdisciplinary collaboration in the department “Ageing of Individuals and Society” is thus assumed.

For further inquiries, please contact:
Prof. Dr. Sven Bruhn, chair of appointments committee
Tel.: +49 381/498-2753
e-mail: sven.bruhn@uni-rostock.de

Qualifications are as per § 58 of the Higher Education Act of the State of Mecklenburg-Vorpommern (LHG M-V): completed university studies, doctoral degree, post-doctoral thesis ("Habilitation"), teaching experience or equivalent qualifications, usually earned within the context of junior professorship.

A special focus is placed on academic achievement and teaching qualifications as well scientific organization and academic administration. For this reason candidates should describe previous teaching results, ideas regarding future teaching (including didactic lesson planning) and their prior experience in academic and scientific management.

In addition, candidates are expected to have experience and interest in developing programs that can attract and maintain external funding.

The professorship is to be filled according to § 61 LHG M-V as a position with civil servant status for life, or, if applicable, for 5 years. It is also possible to fill the position as a regular state employee.

The University of Rostock is committed to their university management guidelines.
Equal opportunities are part of our personnel policy. The announcement is therefore aimed at all persons regardless of their gender (*gender-neutral). Disabled applicants will be given preference if all other qualifications are essentially equal.

The University of Rostock is especially interested in promoting women within the context of § 7 (3) of the Gender Equality Act, and therefore specifically encourages applications from qualified women. Disabled applicants will be given preference if all other qualifications are essentially equal.

Applications with the usual documents (full CV, a complete list of academic and professional background, publications, teaching experience, any additional qualifications, a summary of grants and sponsored research activities and a description of future research plans) should be sent no later than 30 September 2019 to the University of Rostock, Dean of the Faculty of Philosophy, August-Bebel-Straße 28, 18055 Rostock or by e-mail to berufungen.phf@uni-rostock.de.

The protection of your personal information is very important to us. Therefore, the data collected during the application process will be collected, processed and used in accordance with the relevant data protection rules.

Application costs cannot be reimbursed by the State of Mecklenburg-Vorpommern. We ask you to submit applications only in copy, as they will not be returned after the procedure has been completed.