The Faculty of Philosophy at the University of Rostock invites applications for a

Professorship for Empirical Educational Research in the field of Teacher Education (salary level W1 with a tenure track for a W3 professorship)

at the Institute of School Education And Educational Research, at the earliest possible date (within budget considerations).

It will be necessary to present Empirical Educational Research in the field of Teacher Education, both in Research and Teaching for this position. Teaching courses are located in all Teacher Study Programs for all levels. Teaching subjects need to consider empirical educational research as well as the field of school education.

The successful applicant must take part in cooperative processes for advancing and developing teacher education at the University of Rostock and in the federal state Mecklenburg-West Pomerania. Readiness to co-operate is expected with the different subject didactics and other disciplines in the field of Education and Social Sciences at the Faculty of Philosophy, as well as with the statewide Centre for Teacher Education and Educational Research (ZLB).

It is assumed that the applicant will have an outstanding quality doctorate in the field of educational science. The successful applicant should be well versed in the field of Empirical Education Research and/or in the field of Teacher Education and should have experience in both teaching and research. Experiences in the co-operation with schools and/or with extracurricular education would be welcome. It is assumed that applicants are willing to participate in processes of academic management.

This professorship is funded by the Tenure Track Programme of the German Federal Government and the Federal States. The call is aimed at scientists in the early career phase.

Qualifications are as per § 62 of the Higher Education Act of the State of Mecklenburg-Vorpommern (LHG M-V): Completed university studies, doctoral degree, post-doctoral thesis ("Habilitation") or equivalent, substantial teaching experience.

According to § 58 (3) Clause 1 LHG M-V, evidence of at least three years of school experience should be proven. According to Section 62 (2) LHG M-V, junior professors are appointed to temporary civil servants for a period of three years. In the event of probation, the employment relationship is extended for a further three years after the third year.

Qualifications are as per § 62 of the Higher Education Act of the State of Mecklenburg-Vorpommern (LHG M-V). So far as there has been a period of employment as a member of scientific staff or as a scientific assistant in Germany, before or after completion of the doctorate, it is required that the doctorate period and the employment period combined have not exceeded nine years.

The professorship is to be filled according to § 62 LHG M-V as a position with civil servant status of time or as a regular state employee. Pursuant to § 62a LHG M-V, the appointment to the junior professorship is linked to the promise that a professorship in the civil service status for life or as a regular state employee will be accepted if the individual defined performance requirements are met during the junior professorship. Before the end of the second phase of the junior professorship, a tenure track evaluation is carried out in order to check the prerequisites for taking on the permanent W3 professorship. According to § 62 (2) LHG, an interim evaluation takes place in the course of the third year of the junior professorship.

A special focus is placed on academic achievement and teaching qualifications as well academic organization and administration. For this reason candidates should describe previous teaching results, ideas regarding future teaching (including didactic lesson planning) and their prior experience in academic and scientific management. In addition, candidates are expected to have experience and interest in developing programs that can attract and maintain external funding.

The University of Rostock is committed to their university management guidelines.

Equal opportunities are part of our personnel policy. The announcement is therefore aimed at all persons regardless of their gender (* gender-neutral). Disabled applicants will be given preference if all other qualifications are essentially equal.

The University of Rostock is especially interested in promoting women within the context of § 7 (3) of the Gender Equality Act, and therefore specifically encourages applications from qualified women. Women will be given priority if their qualifications are essentially equivalent, unless reasons attributable to the person of the competitor predominate.

Applications with the usual documents (full CV, a complete list of academic and professional background, publications, teaching experience, certificates, any additional qualifications, a summary of grants and sponsored research activities and a description of future research plans) should be sent no later than 02.10.2020 to the Universität Rostock, Dekan der Philosophischen Fakultät, August-Bebel-Straße 28, 18055 Rostock or preferably by e-mail to berufungen.phf@uni-rostock.de (please all documents in one PDF file). We would like to point out that your e-mail will be sent to us unencrypted.

The protection of your personal information is very important to us. Therefore, the data collected during the application process will be collected, processed and used in accordance with the relevant data protection rules.

Application costs cannot be reimbursed by the State of Mecklenburg-Vorpommern. We ask you to submit applications only in copy, as they will not be returned after the procedure has been completed.
