Job offer

The Max Planck Institute for Demographic Research is seeking a Student Assistant

for the Research Group Labor Demography. The candidate should have a background in demography, economics, sociology, or a related field. Experience with software package LaTex is desired. A good command of English is essential.

The tasks include

- Literature search and compilation of summaries/ overviews of scientific literature
- Data handling and data management incl. converting data into charts and graphics;
- Statistical analysis;
- Preparatory work for scientific presentations and articles

The successful candidate can ideally start on October 1, 2020. The first contract runs over 6 months with the possibility for a prolongation. The number of working hours is max. 40 hours per month. More information on the work of the institute is available at www.demogr.mpg.de.

The application should include a cover letter as well as a CV with details of your academic studies, grades, and your interests. Applications are accepted on a rolling basis.

Please address your application to Mrs. Anja Ewald at sekmyrskyla@demogr.mpg.de.

The Max Planck Society wishes to increase the share of women in areas where they are underrepresented and strongly encourages women to apply. The Max Planck Society is committed to employing more individuals with disabilities and especially encourages them to apply.