Technology Project Management Intern (m/f/d)

Business Area:
Disney Experiences

Location:
Uplengen & Papenburg, Germany (on-site)

Job Summary:

The Technology Project Management Intern will participate in the configuration and deployment of end-user hardware on the cruise ship Disney Destiny. The position will be involved from the original hardware configuration to the final onboard deployment and exposed to many shipbuilding milestones. The individual will provide technical project management skills to help ensure a smooth handover from the project team to operations, assist in scheduling priority spaces, communicate with stakeholders, oversee equipment loading, provide leadership updates, and guide offload activities.

Responsibilities:

- Gain exposure to end-user configuration tools that allow concurrent configuration of hundreds of devices at the same time
- Deepen knowledge of technical writing by documenting processes and tools
- Working autonomously under a mentor's guidance to complete specific scopes within the broader extent of the technology part of the project, including assisting with scheduling priority spaces and downstream dependencies
- Support the collection of daily data and updates in a rapidly evolving environment for leadership reports and dashboards
- Help with coordinating and managing logistical tasks, including organizing shipments, handling inventory, scheduling deliveries, and ensuring the smooth flow of materials or resources to meet operational needs

Required Education:

- Currently enrolled as a Junior or higher, or graduated within the past 12 months, from an accredited college/university, earning a degree majoring in Information Technology, Management Information Systems, Project Management or similar experience

Basic Qualifications:

- Proficiency with Microsoft Office applications
- Comfortable and eager to work in a fast-paced environment with demanding timelines
- Creative problem-solving and remediation skills
- Good communication skills with internal and external stakeholders as well as senior leadership
- Curiosity to learn and being a self-starter
- Driver's license valid in Germany
- Preferred: Previous experience in the cruise line or construction industry
